Foch To Spend Two Days In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, O., October 31.—Marshal Foch will spend two days in Cleveland, it was announced here today.

Arriving here on the morning of November 5, the distinguished soldier will be escorted by Troop A of the Ohio National Guard to Gates Mills, where he will be the guest of Farmalee Herrick, son of Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France. Much of the day will be devoted to rest.

The official reception will be accorded November 9. State and city officials will call for the marshal at 9:00 a. m. The party will be met by Troop A, which will escort it to the American Legion headquarters, where a reception will be held.

Following this, he will be escorted to a downtown theatre for a civic meeting. Marshal Foch, Governor Davis and former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, will deliver addresses.

A luncheon will then be tendered. Marshal Foch, after which he will go to Western Reserve University, where the degree of Doctor of Laws will be conferred on him. A formal dinner will be given in his honor in the evening and at 11 p. m. he will depart for Pittsburgh.

Theatrical

John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue

To paraphrase a great author—"All the world loves a parade."

And the local world will have an opportunity to see a brilliant parade when John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue comes to the Sun Thursday, Nov. 3.

Just as the circus is the supreme amusement of the summer, so the minstrel show is the attraction de luxe of the theatrical season. And Col. Vogel's newest offering is the acme of minstrelsy—massive, gorgeous and novel and presented by a company of performers (all white) never equaled.

Col. Vogel's name has for many years been associated with the best in minstrelsy; but in the Black and White Revue he is offering something even better than any of his previous productions—an entertainment that for gorgeousness, novelty and real merit surpasses any offering of its kind.

The advance sale of seats for the single night's engagement at the Sun theatre Thursday begins Wednesday at 10 a. m.

NOT TO NIGHT JOSEPHINE

A very attractive offering by the shape of sensational musical comedy, "Not To Night Josephine" will be presented at the Sun tonight and Tuesday. Included in the long list of stars of this wonderful organization are such well known stage favorites as Florio Florio, Harry Howard, Maria Tracey, Marie Greiner, Helen J. Rice, Chester Wheaton, the Wilsons, Twiss and a bewitching chorus of girls who can both sing and dance. The scenic and electrical effects are all that a prodigious and painstaking management could secure. "Not To Night Josephine," although possessing all the musical and laughable features necessary for a successful comedy also contains a plot that carries right through to the finish, the story bewilders and its many surprises causes the auditors to wonder what the true outcome will be. It fascinates right through to the end of the second act, making it one of the most pleasing musical comedies of the year.

If You Are For GOOD SCHOOLS

WHAT HAVE WE BEEN DOING? IT IS TOO LONG A STORY TO TELL IN A WEEK BUT WE WILL GIVE YOU SOME OF THE HIGH SPOTS AS WE GO ALONG.

Wasn't that a splendid school building erected by Bloom Township that you saw in the Times and Sun Saturday and yesterday? You noticed in what a Democratic way it was obtained didn't you? Wasn't that splendid leadership and executive ability that a Superintendent ought to have as displayed by County Superintendent E. O. McCowen, working out the proper and best school solution WITH THE BOARD OF EDUCATION and the PEOPLE? Why had not Bloom Township a GOOD SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT earlier? What did she lack—only this LEADERSHIP and a CORRECT POINTING OUT of the way. They wanted better things and now they have them. Let us tell you that the Bloom Township School Building was also built for "Community Center" purposes. The building is plain but beautiful. It has a combined auditorium and work and play room, double purpose, with no money wasted on "gingerbread ornaments" and no lost space. Farmers have held and will hold "Farm Institutes" there. The citizens of the Town and Township DO USE the auditorium for varied and many "COMMUNITY PURPOSES" and it is FREE for any use that has a beneficial or moral uplift. The building is so constructed that these meetings can be held WITHOUT DISTURBING or DISMISSING the schools. The idea that EVERY SCHOOL should be a COMMUNITY CENTER whether it is a large school or a ONE-ROOM school has been made mighty clear for seven years by County Superintendent E. O. McCowen and the TEACHERS and BOARD OF EDUCATION and the PEOPLE know it. He has said it many times in talks all over Scioto County at all kinds of gatherings and through the Portsmouth Times in accounts of those meetings. The teachers at teachers' meetings and at Institutes have been urged to make the WIDEST USE POSSIBLE of every school plant, yes, of every ONE-ROOM SCHOOL and many meetings of PUBLIC INTEREST have been held these years in the country. In their so-called platform of misleading inferences the "trio of pretended reformers" say they will do all in the country. In their so-called platform of "misleading references" they say you will raise the standard of teachers' examinations. No real improvement in the ONE-ROOM school buildings can be made until the people where the school is want to "promote community interest." THE PRESENT COUNTY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION HAS DONE THAT as shown above and will be shown more yet, and will keep on doing that. What can THEY point to that THEY have done!

Question No. 5. To the "Trio of pretended reformers." Please state clearly what you would do to PROMOTE COMMUNITY INTEREST? Make your policy CLEAR, yes, VERY CLEAR. THE PEOPLE want to KNOW and have a RIGHT TO KNOW. THE PRESENT COUNTY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION has had the old-fashioned spelling schools and will have more, they have made the schools "Community Centers," so far as that could be done and they have PROMOTED COMMUNITY INTERESTS. AND YOURS IS ONLY A VAGUE PROMISE, while two of you HAVE OPPOSED school development CONSISTENTLY and ALWAYS and one of you has done nothing OUTSIDE OF YOUR OWN DISTRICT for the schools of Scioto County. Do you think THE PEOPLE OF SCIOTO COUNTY are going to give you their votes when you can give only VAGUE PROMISES with NO RECORD? Hundreds are now saying they WILL NOT DO IT, but will vote for the old Board, Al Turner, William Brant and John S. Violet.

The present SCIOTO COUNTY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION has always said that CONSTRUCTIVE SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT in the hills of Scioto County, on account of road conditions CANNOT be Centralization by Townships but only a certain amount of sensible CONSOLIDATION as is REASONABLY POSSIBLE. THE PRESENT SCHOOL AUTHORITIES have also ALWAYS said that there will have to be VERY MANY ONE-ROOM SCHOOLS for ALL TIME in Scioto County because of the hills, roads and SCARCITY of population, AND FURTHER that no ONE-ROOM SCHOOL in Scioto County will be abandoned except as may be REQUIRED and COMPELLED by LAW and as may be wished by the people of the school district themselves. No real improvement in the ONE-ROOM school buildings can be made until the people where the school is want to "promote community interest." THE PRESENT COUNTY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION HAS DONE THAT as shown above and will be shown more yet, and will keep on doing that. What can THEY point to that THEY have done!

Question No. 6. To the "trio of pretended reformers." State clearly, yes, very clearly, how you would "raise the standard" of teachers' examinations. The people want to see if you really have something to offer or whether you do not know what you are talking about and are only trying to fool the voters.

Cut out your "dry stuff" on the heavy of government and tell the people what you HAVE DONE. They can't take you on promise. They will take you only ON YOUR RECORD. You want to KEEP AWAY FROM IT because YOU CANNOT STAND ON IT.

These men, JOHN S. VIOLET, AL TURNER and WILLIAM BRANT STAND ON THEIR RECORD. They share in the excellent example of Bloom Township, as part of their record and we have scarcely begun to tell the story. WILLIAM BRANT, JOHN S. VIOLET and AL TURNER "promoted community service," "fostered local pride" and "encouraged achievement." There didn't they? Where have the "opposition trio of pretended reformers" done the same? Let THEM tell THEIR story. We have asked them in the Times and Sun to tell it and TWO of them HAVE NOT YET TOLD THE PEOPLE EITHER THEIR ATTITUDE OR RECORD. Isn't it beginning to be MIGHTY CERTAIN that TWO cannot do it because their record, J. Eickey and J. Gerlach, is "dead against" them! THEY DARE NOT! The voters will do the rest November 8th and the boys and girls will be safe.

WAS ANY AUTHORITY EVER TAKEN AWAY FROM BLOOM TOWNSHIP BOARD OF EDUCATION? THE HISTORY OF SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT in Bloom Township that you read yesterday shows beyond the shadow of a doubt that it WAS NOT. And that is also true of every township in Scioto County.

Oh, that silly, insistent Croak, croak, croak, "The legislature took the people's rights away and gave them back again." Oh, that MUSHY SENTIMENT that the legislature had the "trio of pretended reformers" in mind when they changed the law and that THEY must be elected in order to carry out the intention of the legislature. Oh, poppy-cock! Do they think the voters are foolish? Everybody knows AL TURNER, WILLIAM BRANT and JOHN S. VIOLET and they have confidence in them as capable, intelligent and TRUTHFUL men, men who will NOT MISREPRESENT, men who have "made good" and men who "will make good."

Yes, voters, the issue is clean cut and clear as a bell, GOOD SCHOOLS. They cannot get away from it by giving you "side issues." They want to "side step" and attract your attention to something else. But you will hold them to the real issue "GOOD SCHOOLS" and Wooden Leg Joke.

Why is it as a writer in the Bell in points out, that the general sense humor is stirred when anything happens to a man's wooden leg, such as its loss or a knothole coming in it, getting it under the car? It is or is the same way with stealing a man's horse in the Far West. Both these accidents are serious. Yet they are supposed to be subjects for mirth.—Minneapolis Journal.

Three days later, Airline left Wells without any explanation. It was the kindly Miss Laura who found her trunk and warned her to bring it to her as she stood, sun-gleed, on the rear platform, watching the town disappear in the distance. It is a very beaming Miss Laura who tells her friends that she was in her presence.

Over their tea cups the two women gossiped amiably and it was not until almost leaving time that Miss Laura turned to her erstwhile chum just why she had called her over.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER XIII—ROSE'S CHATTER WORRIES ME

START HERE TODAY

May Scott, a young movie actress, tells the story. She is engaged in making a picture, "Love in Leash." Her leading man, Cyrus Sheldons, is in love with her. The villain, Dick Barnes, is—she feels certain—a sweetheart who had disappeared under tragic and mysterious circumstances. But he refuses to divulge himself to her as her Jimmy Alcott.

GO ON WITH STORY

I went to the studios, next morning, in great depression. I had not told mother dear about what had happened the day before. If Jimmy Alcott was determined to remain dead to old friends, it was not for me to resurrect him. Rose—Mrs. Alcott—Montillon in the cast—Mrs. Henry Larkin at home—dropped into my dressing room to talk while I made up. Rose says the funniest things to me. Sometimes I think she's horrid, but I am as nice to her as I know how to be, because, once upon a time when I most needed help, she was good to me. Rose is nearer fifty than forty, and the grand little gossip collector of the crowd. She's old—but how she can act! I was slipping into my riding habit and boots—it was for an interior introduction to exteriors we were going to shoot the week following—when, without any obvious reason, Rose observed:

"Dear me! Dear me! I feel so sorry for the directors! When a woman is young and beautiful, she can't act. And when she is as old as I, and has learned to act, she's lost her good looks! Just give my throat-line the once-over!"

I cast a quick glance at her. I couldn't stop to talk. I was shaping a Cupid's bow with a lip stick and I had to be careful. I almost forgot Rose was slandering me. Was she implying that I could not act? Then how did she suppose I had risen to stardom?

Perhaps she caught the meaning of my glance, for she hurried on with other shop talk. It was about Mc-Masters, our producer.

"He's just bought a villa for Althea Gillard over on the lake," she averred. "Henry heard about it."

Henry Larkin, Rose Montillon's husband, does comedy excellently. He has been on the stage thirty years but still he can make up like a college freshman. He can detail the history of everybody in the speaking and the silent drama.

"You should have heard Henry talk about the new man, Dick Barnes," Rose rambled on. "He's a grouch, says my old man. You see, Henry was telling some of the boys how Mc-Masters has boasted that he can get any girl he picks out! And Dick Barnes asked, 'You mean that's why Mc-Master stars reach the zenith so young?'"

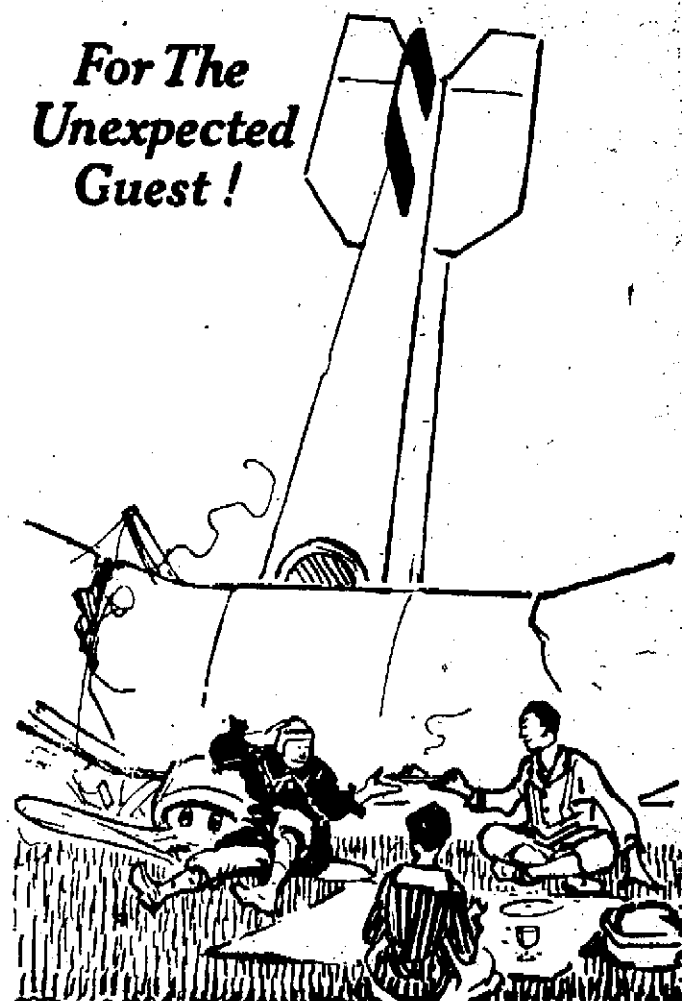

"That's about the size of it," Henry admitted.

"Henry says Barnes got on his tin ear, called somebody a cat, and tore off. Dick will have to mend his manners, Henry says. Can't he supply in this company. What cause, has he not to get peeved because Mc-Masters has pets and pushes 'em on fast? Say, dearie, how long have you been starring? Not two years yet, I do believe!"

Rose, smiled—but I felt like wailing. Somehow her gossip made me dreadfully unhappy.

OVEN BAKED BEANS

with Tomato Sauce

When the unexpected guest drops in at meal time it is always a satisfaction to know that there is a supply of Heinz Baked Beans in the pantry.

So convenient, so delicious, so easy to serve and so well liked by everyone that it is a mistake to run out or let the supply get too low.

Really oven baked in dry heat and flavored with the most appetizing tomato sauce ever made.

But, you know.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

Three days later, Allie left Wells without any explanation. It was the kindly Miss Laura who took her to her train and waved a goodbye to her as she stood, sudored, on the rear platform, watching the little town disappear in the distance. It was a very beaming Miss Laura who finally called up her old friend, Sally Randall, to tell her not to be a goose, but come right over and have a cup of tea and a talk.

As fast as she could navigate that lady got into her best bib and tucker and flew over to the little house on the hill.

"My, but I wish I could dare to look and feel as happy as you do, Laura," she said, as she saw her hostess, all smiles, standing in the window watching for her.

"Maybe when you've had a talk with me you'll feel and act the same, Sally. I have a heap of news for you, so come right in and set down while I fly and get the tea ready."

Miss Randall did as she was bid and felt suddenly ten years younger than she had before. It was Laura's infectious cheerfulness that did this to most of her friends when they were in her presence.

Over their tea cups the two women gossiped amiably and it was not until almost leaving time that Miss Laura confided to her erstwhile chum just why she had called her over.

"You, madam, are going to be a grandmother. What do you think of that?" she said with a twinkle in her eyes.

"A what? Grand—mother?" and here the amazing Mrs. Randall burst into tears.

"I don't let me worry you," she gasped between sobs. "It's all quite as it should be, Laura. I'm a foolish old lady, and I'm crying for joy. The first good cry of that kind I've had since my Ned was born."

"I feel as happy as you do about it," Sally said. "This is the solution of the whole business as far as those two children are concerned. I told you didn't I. That everything'd come out right?"

"Yes, and as usual you are right," burst from Mrs. Randall, alighting, as she looked at her friend. "I wish I had listened to you long ago, Laura, and this miserable unhappiness might have been averted. What makes me feel most wicked, just awfully so, is that my own little Janey came to me this morning and told me that it was Cherry who saved her from running away with that Billy Skils. Yes, my dear, she was right at the church door when caught, and he a bigamist! One of those real bad men—I knew all along there was something wrong with Janey, she's moped ever since she got back. She seemed to have something on her mind but wouldn't tell us anything. It was because of not hearing from Cherry and seeing how unhappy her brother was that made her 'run up.' Then Mrs. Randall broke into a full recital of what had been told her by her daughter.

POP-CORN CANDY

PUT one cup of white sugar, one tablespoon of butter and three tablespoons of water into a pan and boil. Have ready three-quarts of nicely popped corn. When the mixture in the pan begins to thicken slightly pour the popped corn in and stir vigorously, thus distributing the candy. Then remove from the fire and heap on a buttered dish.

Mrs. Paul Williams and Miss Helen Haldeman were joint hostesses of a delightful Halloween party recently at the home of Mrs. Williams on Bird avenue. Black cats, grinning jack-o-lanterns and autumn flowers all contrived to convert the rooms into a typical Halloween setting. Numerous delightful features and squits marked the festivities of the evening and many pretty and colorful costumes were noted. Mrs. Raymond Wilcox was given the prize for being the best dressed. Later the guests removed their masks and enjoyed a few games of bridge. Enough guests were present for five tables, and at the close of the games a delicious two course lunch was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Rea Selby, George Breese, James Williams, Raymond Wilcox, Evan Williams, Charles Hyland, Frank E. Adams, Loren Hitchcock, Ralph Marling, John Neudorfer and Paul Williams, Messrs. Lena Hauck, Alice Vincent, Helen Dunn and Helen Haldeman, Messrs. Graves and Forest Williams, Harry Doer, Kenyon Johnson and Robert Whitaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Head and son, Walter, Jr., who have been spending the past few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hitchcock, will return to their home in Hillsboro tomorrow.

Liberly Class and Mrs. Blazer's class of Manly church will give a Halloween party tomorrow evening at 7:15 at the home of Mrs. C. L. Stiff of 2212 Vinton avenue.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Dolly—I would like for you to explain to me just why alcohol or liquor makes a person drunk. If you can give me a satisfactory answer I will give you five credits for sitting under the non de plume of "Wise". (RECEIVED.)

Well, it's just like this, Reggie: You pour a glass or two of "Old Hickory" or something similar into your stomach without saying anything to your poor innards about it. The organs there reject it, as of no use in nourishment, and the veins carry it into the liver, and of course, the liver hasn't any use for it and chases it on to the heart; the heart won't stand for it and tells it to "beat it," and the first thing you know, the lungs are battling with it and by the aid of the atmosphere a large portion is drawn off with the breath (this accounts for the number of second hand drunks that we get occasionally), and the body is relieved from the poison which it could not use but enough of the fiery fluid escapes and the blood carries it to the brain where it produces excitement, madness, stupefaction, foolishness—in other words drunkenness. Next time you get that way, you'll know just how it happened.

Dear Dolly—Can you give me the address of a Dental company that sells Dental supplies.

THANK YOU.

Here are the names and addresses of five firms, all located in Columbus, Ohio: The Columbus Dental Mfg. Co., 672 Wagers St.; The Dayton Dental Supply Co., 68 East Gay street; The Fizzzerd-Auld Co., 48 West Long Street; The Ransom and Randolph Co., The Wheeler Building; J. A. Sprague and Co., United Women Mills Building.

Dear Dolly—I am a married woman and some people tell me my husband is going to see another woman. I am so heartbroken I don't know what to do. I love my husband and never can love another man. I have thought of leaving him but I know I never could stand that. He is on my mind all the time. We go along all right until a few weeks ago. His health is not very good. He goes out every evening and all day Sunday and people tell me he spends his time with another woman. He has no reason for doing this way as I have always treated him right. I am heart broken. Dolly, please give me your answer right away.

HEART-BROKEN WIFE.

You are foolish to worry yourself to death just to please your neighbors. The next person who tells you, your husband is going with another woman, tell them to mind their own business, that you can take care of your husband without any assistance from them. Even if he has an affinity, I wouldn't satisfy the busybodies by letting them know that I cared. The tragedy of the past week should be a warning to married mothers to watch their step, also to single girls who are chasing married men.

SOCIETY

Chestnut Burr Inn was the scene of a delightful Halloween party on Friday night when Mrs. Fred Ruhlman, assisted by Mrs. Knost, entertained eighteen friends for her daughter, Pauline, and for Charlotte Knost. The boys and girls assembled after school on Friday at the Ruhlman home on Franklin Boulevard, where a large truck awaited them. In this they were driven to Chestnut Burr Inn, which is beautifully situated on Brush Creek. Much merriment was had on the drive. Immediately on their arrival partners were chosen by means of Halloween cards and the party assembled in the large living-room which had been artistically decorated in hennock, autumn leaves and foliage. The only light cast upon the scene was that which glowed from wicker pumpkin faces above the fireplace and buffet and on the long table which was heaped high with goodies, all suggestive of the season. The favors were vari-colored caps. After the dinner there were Halloween games on the lawn under the electric lights stretched from tree to tree. Later the boys and girls donned costumes and masks and enjoyed dancing in a living-room. Following the unmasking was a peanut hunt in which Frank Allen was awarded the prize. Don Ruhlman won the prize in the wicker eating contest. Then the guests enjoyed bobbing for apples and popping corn in the large fire-place.

At nine-thirty the truck brought the guests back to Portsmouth. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ruhlman's neighbors, Messrs. Chester and Frank Allen of Cincinnati, who came especially for the happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bretnig and daughter, Katherine, left Monday for their home in Waverly after a week-end visit to local friends.

Mrs. John Neudorfer of Baird avenue arrived home yesterday from a several weeks' visit with relatives in Hackensack, New Jersey.

50,000 JOBS IN DANGER

Munitions Workers Will Be Out of Luck If Disarmament Comes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Fifty thousand civilian munitions workers will find themselves without jobs if the November conference on limitation of armaments succeeds in halting battleship and ordnance construction in the United States.

The American Federation of Labor is considering plans to effect their employment in peaceful industries. This will be one of the biggest problems facing the labor advisory disarmament committee when it starts activities here late this month.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 men are employed continually by the navy ordnance department in making naval guns and ammunition, manufacturing torpedoes and filling shells.

The army ordnance department employs 664 civilians in making coast and field artillery and ammunition and accessories, as gun carriages and ammunition hoopers.

But the government manufactures only a small part of its arms and ammunition. The greater part of this work is done under contract by big private corporations.

Most important among private armament makers are the Bethlehem, Carnegie and Midvale Steel Corporations.

No accurate figures are available on the number of men employed solely in munition manufacture by these corporations, but estimates place it well over 25,000.

The American Federation of Labor has pledged full support to President Harding's conference. Now the munitions workers are reproaching the federation.

So the federation is trying to work out a program that will conciliate the munitions workers and at the same time hold to labor's traditional stand on disarmament.

Prices in Japan Climbing

Experts Read This as a Sign World's Business is On Mend

NEW YORK.—Prices in Japan, after falling steadily for 18 months, are now soaring again. The advance is at the rate of about five per cent a month.

Economists are wondering if this is an indication that world business conditions are definitely on the mend.

Japan was the first country to have a break in prices. That was in March, 1920. The Japanese price peak, when it topped, was 121 per cent higher than in 1913.

Starting in Japan, price crashing spread around the world. It reached Italy, France and England in April, 1920. A month later, American prices began falling.

Economists have reasoned that Japan, first country to have business depression, reflected in falling prices, logically would be the first country where world business improvement would show up, in rising prices.

U. S. Prices Now. Wholesale prices in the United States now average about 52 per cent higher than in July, 1914. This is shown by the Department of Labor's latest statistics. It is four points higher than in June.

Consumer's cost of living is 64 per cent higher than in July, 1914, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. This is a rise of two points since June.

The majority of price experts believe that the upward tendency is only temporary, that the long-range trend of prices is downward. That has been the history of prices since 1790—up 20 years and then down 30 years, irregularly, like the teeth of a saw.

THIS YOUNG MOTHER Tells Children Women what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are very fond of children and for a considerable time after we married I feared I would not have any owing to my weak condition. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I have a nice strong, healthy baby girl. I can honestly say that I did not suffer much more when my baby was born than I used to suffer with my periods before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound years ago. I give all the credit to your medicine and shall always recommend it very highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSEN, Millston, Wisconsin.

How can women who are weak and sickly expect or hope to become mothers of healthy children? Their first duty is to themselves. They should overcome the derangement or debility that is dragging them down, and strengthen the entire system, as did Mrs. Jansen, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and give their children the blessing of a good constitution.

Aerate Your Boiled Water. Drinking water that has been boiled is usually so flat and tasteless that people are apt to dislike it exceedingly, and even though the health authorities order its use, many people will run the risk of contracting typhoid fever rather than take this precaution. If boiled water is thoroughly cooled and shaken up well in a bottle half filled, it will become aerated and have the sparkle and taste of freshly drawn well water.—Housekeeper.

Our Fortunes. We should manage our fortune as we do our health—enjoy it when good, be patient when it is bad and never apply violent remedies except in case of violent necessity.—La Rochefoucauld.

BLOOD SPOTS IN ANOTHER ROOM OF DEATH HOUSE MAY HELP SOLVE MURDER MYSTERY

Important New Clue Is Discovered By Officials

A new turn of affairs in the double murder of John W. Newman and Miss Louise Doyle was taken Monday when blood stains and spots were found in the small room adjoining the one in which the bodies of the victims were found in the abandoned cottage on the Scioto trail.

This development, officials contend, disposed of the robbery theory and tends to greatly strengthen the theory of jealousy or revenge. The blood spots are plainly visible on the floor and on the side of the door, which officials say indicate that a struggle ensued before Newman and Miss Doyle were killed.

Murderer Hid In Room
The theory is advanced and a most plausible one, officials say, is that the gun user concealed himself behind the door leading to the rear room and when the couple entered he waited to the psychological moment to bring his gun into play. It is believed that after shooting Newman twice he placed the muzzle of the gun against the left breast of the woman and snuffed out her life and then returned to Newman and placing the muzzle against his left temple he sent a bullet speeding through his brain.

"Dead men tell no tales," probably was on the mind of the murderer. After the lives of the two people had been snuffed out the gun user then planned his get away. Jumping into the Newman car he drove it around to the West Side, where it was abandoned. The fact that papers were scattered through it and Miss Newman's purse was found on the floor do not necessarily indicate robbery as being the real motive. Possessory could have rifled the pockets of the car in the hopes of finding something valuable.

Jealousy May Be Cause
While not abandoning the robbery motive, officials Monday began the task of working for a possible clue on the theory of jealousy. Associates of Newman and Miss Doyle are to be closely questioned to see if the remotest clue cannot be obtained to the gun user.

Officials are convinced that the murderer had concealed himself in the cottage and that he was aware of the fact that Newman and Miss Doyle had been going there. Officials were told Monday that an Overland car was seen parked near the cottage quite frequently of late.

In the front pocket of the car several pieces of chewing gum were found. Two pieces, evidently from the same package, were found in one of the pockets of Miss Doyle's coat.

Newman, it is said, had several pictures of Miss Doyle and on several occasions he had displayed them to close friends. When asked if he thought he was not doing the wrong thing, he replied that he and Louise were just good friends and their love for each other was purely platonic. Officials are convinced that relatives of both people knew of their attachment and all will be questioned in due time.

Brother Discusses Crime
Gus Doyle, aged 20, brother of the dead girl was questioned by Detective Baker and Prosecuting Attorney George W. Sheppard in the latter's office Sunday afternoon. He admitted that he had heard Newman's name mentioned several times, but he did not pay much attention to it as he never saw him and that Newman was never anywhere near his home that he knew of. He admitted that on last Friday some one told his family that Newman had been acting strangely and from then on his relatives began to fear for the life of Louise. "We then began to realize that she would not return to us alive," he told the officials.

Many Visit Murder Scene
There was a steady procession of machines Sunday to the hillside cottage where the murder took place. Hundreds of people closely inspected the house and the contiguous territory. Several persons climbed to the roof and made a search for the deadly bullet but no trace of it could be found. One curiously inclined person actually climbed down the chimney to see if the gun was concealed there. All during the day Scioto Trail in the vicinity of the crime was lined with machines and it was almost impossible to drive through the long lines of them. It is estimated that only 2,000 people inspected the death chamber yesterday. At one time the crowd was so large that apprehension was felt that the floors would give way. A close examination was made for stray bullets, but none was found. The walls, ceiling and floors were inspected, but no bullet holes were found.

Will Take Up Force
Detective Fred Baker stated Monday that the porch in front of the cottage will be taken up to make certain that the gun was not concealed under it. "We do not believe the gun is anywhere near the scene of the crime, but we will take no chances and will make a thorough search for it," Baker told a Times man today.

There is a well on the farm and officials said today that it would be drained as the gun might have been tossed into it. Several holes were found in the porch pillars, but it is believed they were made by wasps.

Watch Was Discovered
Officials are at a loss to know what methods to pursue to recover Newman's watch. Mrs. Newman says she does not know the make and says it was purchased in Pittsburgh. She stated Monday that she is not absolutely sure that Newman had it with him. She says a careful search has been made in her home for the timepiece, too, but no trace of it has been found. It is an open face watch and Newman sent away and bought it.

Officials Monday were lamenting the fact that the cottage in which the murder was committed was not locked up immediately after the bodies were found. "It is too bad that the house has been rented and that papers found strewn on the floor were burned," Sheriff Rickey said. Coroner Hendrickson says he examined all the papers closely and that there were no names on any of them and most of the pieces were blank papers.

RUMOR FALSE
It was rumored all through the East End today that Newman had been shot over the left eye, but this is not true. He has a cut there that looks like it might have been inflicted with a club.

Last Rites At Carrs, Ky.

The body of Miss Louise Doyle was not taken to the home on Grandview avenue from Undertaker Dahler's, but this morning was taken by relatives on the early C. & O. train to Carrs, Ky., where funeral services and burial were held today.

All Active.
Don't be a clam, my son; but if an old friend comes to you and asks for the loan of $5 until Saturday night, just close your shell for repairs. It may look rude, but under some circumstances it is better to leave than to be left.

Decentful Man.

MAN ACCUSED OF AUTOMOBILE THEFTS IS CAUGHT IN CANADA; BROUGHT BACK

EITHER REVENGE OR JEALOUSY, DECLARE OFFICIALS; MONEY ACCOUNTED FOR

Officials this afternoon virtually discarded the robbery theory when almost every penny Newman drew from the Excelsior plant was accounted for. On the day of his disappearance, October 21, he drew $38. Of this amount Newman put $10 back in his savings account in the Excelsior plant and paid $2.35 for a pair of shoes for one of his children, leaving $47.65.

On October 5 Newman notified the paymaster of the Excelsior factory that he wished to draw $60 of his savings account on or about October 25. He drew this money on October 26 as a ten days' notice must be given before payment of money in the savings account department.

Of the $107.65 which Newman had, he paid $65 to a tinner for re-roofing his house, gave his wife $23 and paid a vacationing bill of $8, the total being $97. He still had $10 to account for, and $7.50 of this was found in a trousers pocket. He had probably spent the other $2.50 on incidentals.

When Prosecuting Attorney Sheppard obtained these figures from Herbert C. Rickey, paymaster of the Excelsior shoe plant, he was convinced at once that robbery was not the underlying motive of the double murder. After examining Newman's time cards at the plant he said to a Times man:

"You can say for me that we will no longer waste any time on a robbery theory. We have accounted for almost every penny Newman drew from his employers and it looks more like jealousy or revenge than ever. I shall insist that every possible step be taken to bring the gun-user to trial. It is one of the most baffling mysteries that we have been confronted with in a long time."

Edward J. Holbrook, 34, march sought after by Sheriff E. Rickey and local police officials in connection with the alleged selling of stolen cars to Municipal Judge W. R. Sprague, W. S. Harris and George Moore, is now behind the bars of the county jail having been returned to this city by Sheriff Rickey Sunday noon from Canada, opposite Saint John's, N. B. Holbrook is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with the sale of stolen property, and he will be given a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Municipal court on this charge.

The local men bought their cars from Holbrook about last April, some months after he had located here. He was working as electrical engineer with a Pittsburgh contracting firm, working on the new coal docks at the steel plant.

While here Holbrook was admitted as a member of a prominent local lodge. The splendid and responsible position he held and the social position he obtained by joining the local fraternal order caused the local preachers of machines to have much faith in him.

It did not develop that the machines were stolen until several weeks after Holbrook had left Portsmouth. When it became known one machine was stolen it did not take long for the other purchasers to find out they had also purchased stolen property.

Judge Sprague purchased a Mormon touring car, Moore a Mormon touring and W. S. Harris a Chandler touring. Detectives came to the city and located the stolen cars for their owners and insurance companies who had paid lost claims on them. Then a search was started for Holbrook. Sheriff Rickey was given some authority to act in the case several weeks ago, when affidavits asking for the young man's arrest were placed in his hands. He then sent descriptions of Holbrook to different cities and within a short time learned from officials at Saint John's that Holbrook had been located. A week ago Thursday he was arrested by Canadian officials who wired Sheriff Rickey of the capture. Sheriff Rickey went to Columbus and Washington for extradition papers but on arriving in Washington found that such red tape made it necessary for him to return to Portsmouth. While here on the return trip he received word from Canada to come for the prisoner and Sheriff Rickey went after him without extradition papers and was soon in possession of the much sought after man. Sheriff Rickey left here last Wednesday.

Holbrook is a clean cut looking young fellow, and according to Sheriff Rickey is a professional when it comes to disposing of stolen automobiles. He says he is the ring leader of a gang of auto thieves.

Relatives of Holbrook are expected here by Tuesday noon in order to be present when he is arraigned Tuesday afternoon.

SOCIETY
Mr. and Mrs. John Settle of Robinson avenue had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Saff and Mr. and Mrs. John Hoover of Pine street, New Boston, Mr. M. S. Cunningham and sons Jack and Harold of this city, and Mrs. Joseph Johnson. After the supper a delightful evening was spent in games and music.

The Thank Offering meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Bigelow church will meet with Group Four tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. D. Hott, 1622 Fifth street. The decorations will be in charge of Mrs. F. H. Price. Members are urged to respond to the appeal for supplies for the box to be sent to the purchase at Asheville, N. C.

The Stephen Lindsay Guild of the First Presbyterian church announce a "Circus" for Thursday night of this week at the church.

The "main tent" will be in the gymnasium, where a clown band of thirteen pieces will play, not to mention performing animals and acrobatics of a high order. In the Sunday school building the various "sideshows" will be exhibited, and all the circus necessities, such as pink lemonade, popcorn, balloons, etc., will be on sale for a penny.

Dinner will be served at 5 o'clock at fifty cents a plate. There is no admission charge for the circus fun, except a nominal fee for tickets to the "big top."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gallagher of Second street had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daugherty and mother of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens and grandchildren, Mary Isabel and Betty Ruth Collins of Chillicothe, Mrs. Charles Gallagher and Mrs. Stevens are sisters of Mrs. Gallagher.

The Halloween Social which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Kate Loft this evening has been postponed until Tuesday evening, November 8th. All members will please take notice.

The choir of the First Evangelical church will give a song service next Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glockner and son Charles and daughters, the Misses Madlyn and Columbia Glockner and Miss Alberta Maier former a motor party to Ironton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Decker and children of Carey's Run motored to Chillicothe Sunday and spent the day with his mother, Mrs. N. B. Nutter.

The Hope Circle of the Calvary Baptist church will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Lawson, 2101 Grant street.

Miss Ruth Maguire was a charming when she entertained with a Halloween party at her home on Carey's Run. The evening was spent in playing all sorts of Halloween games and music, after which a delicious lunch was served to the Misses Flora Kuhn, Emma Horvick, Alma Malone, Ethel Weidner, Goldie Gifford, Mary Grummo, Persis and Paul Maguire, Marie and Carol Maguire, Edna Bellamy, Georgia Turner, Ethel Smith, Marie and Hazel Millicent, Mary McLaughlin, Messrs. Nellie Bellamy, Shirley Messon, Frank and William Grummo, John Grummo, George Montavon, Frank Millicent, Joe and Arthur Foster, Harry and George Kuhn, Joseph Jones, John Monte, Claude Weidner, Roy Bellamy, Clyde Morris, Al and Mrs. William Parker.

Mrs. T. G. McCormick very pleasantly entertained her club members and husbands with a Halloween party recently at her home 1307 Gallia street. The house was very attractive and decorated for the occasion as a forest scene with autumn leaves, witches, black cats and yellow and black hangings, carrying out the autumnal shades. The guests upon their arrival were received by Master Robert Wellman masked as Butler and much pleasure was taken in guessing who was who as every one was very cleverly disguised. One of the merry games played was the unwinding of the spider web at the end of which every guest received a prize. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Uneski, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Halsey, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ebrum, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rice, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mahon, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Yancey, Miss Austin Doyle, Mr. Chalmers Davis, Miss Blanche Doyle, Miss Charles Hopkins and Miss Agnes McCormick of Mt. Vernon, sister of Dr. T. G. McCormick. Later a Halloween buffet lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. William Southworth entertained with a delightful Halloween party Saturday night at their home 1153 Ninth street. The rooms were decorated in orange and black Halloween novelties. The evening was spent informally in games and music, after which a delicious lunch of doughnuts, pie and hot chocolate was served to the Misses Lillian Dubois, Thelma Reese, Edna George, Marie Heeg, Ruth Kaps, Edith Kaps, Freda Reese, Lawrence Stewart, Hazel Cooper, Margaret Crabtree, Garnet McCarty, Margaret Cook, Thelma Southworth, Messrs. Lawrence Stewart, Gibson McLaughlin, Forrest Crabtree, Doran Lule, Paul McLaughlin, Albert Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. William Southworth.

The home of C. and Mrs. W. E. Cook was beautifully decorated with all kinds of Halloween novelties Saturday evening for the pleasure of their attractive little daughter, Viola Cook. Games and Halloween stunts were enjoyed during the evening. A box of candy was presented to Paul W. Peed for blowing out the largest number of candles, and Mildred Jackson was given an apple for blowing out the smallest number. At a late hour little Miss Bertie Sleanor Cook invited the young folks into the dining-room which was a vision of love-lies in its black and orange decorations. Streamers of yellow and black extended from the chandelier to each place. Sandwiches, lettuce salad, individual pumpkin tarts, nuts, candies and hot cocoa were served by Mr. and Mrs. Cook. Black cats and Halloween pumpkins filled with units were the favors. Those present included Dorothy Corbitt, Helen Moore, Mildred Jackson, Frances Phillips, Viola Cook, Jack Bridges, Paul Peed, Edward Purcell and Arthur Clark.

One of the attractive affairs of the Halloween season was the mask party given at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. William Tipton of the Buena Vista Pike. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves, cornucopias, pumpkins and all kinds of Halloween novelties. Mrs. Bertie Blood proved to be a very clever fortune-teller. Garb in a witch's costume and occupying a witch's den in one corner of the room, the fortune-teller told the past, present and the future of those present. The evening was spent in games and music after which a delicious Halloween repast was served to the Misses Mabel Hunsinger, Gertrude Gerken, Mabel Kennedy, Minnie Pantmeyer, Bertha Blood, Mary Gerken, Ethel Turner, Ernestine Wausley, Sadie Turner, Beulah Wausley, Ada Tipton and Mrs. Bertha Blood; Messrs. Roy Cunningham, Herman Wimer, Larry Harold, Frank Pantmeyer, Henry Tipton, Charles Riddy, Hilborn Lloyd, David Tipton, John Tipton and H. O. Lindsey.

Among the recent Halloween parties was one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Glockner on Sixth street, when their young son Gerald Glockner, entertained twelve of his little classmates with a Halloween party. The evening was spent in playing Halloween games, guessing contests, bobbing for apples, carrying corn on a knife, etc. Prizes were awarded to Genevieve Mader, Margaret, Betty, Marie Bart, Richard Kueger and Gerald Glockner.

GUN VICTIM AND HIS WIFE

This picture of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Newman was taken shortly after their marriage in 1913. Mr. Newman had since then become heavier, but his friends will readily recognize his picture and that of his wife.

Thought Dream Would Be Clue

The authorities thought they had a red hot clue last night when rumors began to filter into Portsmouth Attorney George W. Sheppard's office about a woman having a dream in which she saw two dead bodies in the cottage where Newman and Miss Doyle's bodies were found.

An official last night called on the woman and she denied the rumor and branded it as false from start to finish. And singularly enough this woman is the mother of one of the young men suspected of knowing something about the disappearance of Louise Doyle and John Newman. Believes say they cannot account how such a ridiculous rumor gained circulation. The officials believed it at first and thought today they would make the first arrest in the double murder case.

visited the cottage last Wednesday. She is supposed to have said that she smelled an odor in the cottage, but did not look into the front room where the bodies were found.

An official last night called on the woman and she denied the rumor and branded it as false from start to finish. And singularly enough this woman is

Greenup Man Killed By Fall Of Slate

Wife Thinks It's Murder

Detective Baker and Prosecuting Attorney spent an hour with Mrs. Newman yesterday, but she could not throw any additional light on the double murder. She says she is convinced her husband and Miss Doyle were murdered and believes that jealousy is the real motive that prompted the deed. She clings to her original statements that she did not know her husband was meeting Miss Doyle. When asked if it were true that recently some woman called her that her husband was taking auto rides with Miss Doyle, she said "This is a nice take and if my husband was going out with the Doyle girl it was only for a short time as he was home almost every night before nine o'clock."

James Murphy, age 37 years, a well-known Greenup county man, was killed by a fall of slate in the mines of the Main Island Creek Coal Co. at Jarmabus, W. Va., several days ago. The remains arrived in Ironton and were interred in Lawrence cemetery. Rev. Sampson conducted the funeral. This is the third member of Murphy's family to die a tragic death in the last three years, one of the present victim's sons, Jethro, having been shot when he attempted to act as peace-maker in a quarrel at Lawrence three years ago and another son, William, was killed while working in the N. & W. yards at Portsmouth, June 28, 1920.

Says He Would Know Murderer

When persons visited the cottage on the Trail yesterday a tall middle aged man stood at the gate leading to it and carefully sized up every visitor. When an official asked him what he was doing he replied: "Why the man who kill of those two people may be right among us and if he is I will know him when he passes through this gate."

Sheriff Rickey And Coroner Confer About Double Murder

Sheriff E. E. Rickey spent several hours in the vicinity of the crime this morning and will devote all his time in an attempt to clear up the mysterious affair. He has already questioned a number of persons and may at any time strike pay dirt. He has the facts in his hands and will sift them down in his usual conscientious manner. Late this afternoon he was closed with Coroner Hendrickson and they were going over the various phases of the double murder. They scout the robbery theory and believe that the deed was done by a rejected sailor.

May Offer A Big Reward

It was reported today that the county commissioners would offer a substantial reward for the apprehension of the gun user. They may take this action at their meeting next Monday providing that the mystery has not been cleared up by that time.

Funeral Services Held Today

The funeral of John W. Newman was held from the home 1617 Twelfth street at ten o'clock this morning. The services were private. The home was visited by hundreds Sunday who came to view the body.

The pallbearers were three members of Peerless K. of P. lodge and three members of the Young Men's Bible Class of the First Christian church. The last rites were conducted by Rev. Charles R. Oakley. Burial was in Greenhau.

To Question All Employees

Detective Fred Baker late this afternoon planned to visit the department in the Excelsior plant in which Miss Doyle and Newman worked and question employees. It was known among them that Newman had been meeting a woman on the Brady corner in the East End, but they did not suspect that it was Miss Doyle.

Two Barns Fired By Lightning
Destroyed; Horse Burns In One

Lightning hitting barns on the Frank Gleim farm a mile east of Portsmouth road and Fred Eitelberg farm at Waits Station caused damage estimated at more than $5,000 Sunday evening between five and six o'clock. The greatest damage was on the Frank Gleim farm where a big barn, hay, wheat, straw, corn, farm implements and tools and a horse were consumed by the flames.

Gleim's loss is estimated at about $4,000 with some insurance. Lightning struck this barn shortly after 6 o'clock. The family had just finished supper and were busy with cream separator in the kitchen and did not notice the start of the fire. A loud crackling of flames first attracted their attention and by this time the fire had made considerable headway.

Mr. Gleim and his son Andrew first gave their attention to saving stock in the barn. Several cows were led out and then four horses. By the time the cows and four horses had been taken to places of safety the interior of the barn was a roaring furnace and it was impossible to rescue the remaining horse which had to be left to perish.

Two buggies were saved but a farm wagon, farming implements, some of which cost several hundred dollars each and farm tools, wheat, hay and straw were lost with the barn. The flames spread to a granary and it was also quickly consumed.

Neighbors who gathered turned their attention to the garage and house. The garage and a Chevrolet automobile were saved. The hard rain soaked the roof of the house and prevented the flying fire brands from setting it on fire. Had the wind blown toward the house it would have also been wiped out. Several small frame outbuildings were destroyed.

Mr. Gleim carries some insurance but it will not cover his big loss. The Eitelberg fire happened a few minutes later, the barn being wiped out before neighboring farmers arrived on the scene. They turned their attention to the house and other buildings and prevented them from catching fire.

The barn contained a few farming implements and hay and hauled straw. There was no live stock in the barn as the Eitelbergs now occupy the David farm at Waits Station and they have all their live stock there along with some of the farm machinery. They hay and straw had been stored in the barn for the winter.

The loss is estimated between $1,500 and $2,000 with no insurance. Mr. Eitelberg let his insurance run out just a couple of weeks ago.

The wind was blowing in an opposite direction from the house which would have probably fallen before the flames had the wind been blowing towards it.

The two fires attracted considerable attention from the many auto-ists returning from Ironton about 5:30 and six o'clock. The sky was lighted up for about a half hour.

A doctor in the British Medical Journal makes the statement that the most perfect teeth he has seen have been in the mouths of the children of the very poor—children who never possessed a tooth brush. This physician states that these youngsters eat more carbohydrates and less detergent material; also, they eat fewer sweets, and, possibly, which is more to the point, there is something in their organizations which resists both sweets and starch.

Lecture Course Opens Tonight

Tonight the first number on the high school lecture course will be given in the high school auditorium with Evelyn Scotney and assisting artists as the attraction. The assistants are a cellist and a pianist, the three offering a splendid program.

Miss Scotney's debut at the Metropolitan Opera House took place last season and she has been re-engaged for a term of years as leading coloratura soprano. She has sung "Lucia," "Coq d'or," "Elixir d'Amore" with Caruso and regularly appeared with the great tenor in the magnificent revival of Halévy's "La Juive."

The program starts at 8 o'clock. Single admission tickets are 75 cents and season tickets $2.50. The entertainment will be repeated Tuesday night.

SOUTH WEBSTER BEATS LUCASVILLE

The basket ball teams of South Webster high school opened their season Friday night with two easy victories over Lucasville high school. The games were played on the South Webster floor with a large crowd in attendance. The boys' game was played first and at the end of the first half the score was 13 to 3 in favor of S. W. H. S. In the second half S. W. H. S. five opened up with some fine team work and when the final whistle blew the score was 45 to 9 with S. W. H. S. winner.

The girls' game while fast proved to be almost as one-sided as the boys' game. L. H. S. girls failed to get a single field goal. M. Dutiel was the star of the game, making 9 of S. W. H. S.'s 14 points. The final score being 14 to 3, with S. W. H. S. again victors.

After the game the girls of the domestic science department served the four teams with lunch. The line-ups:

S. W. H. S. Boys: RF Stroth, Scott, LF McCullister, Handy, C Caldwell, RG Newell, LG Woodell, BAER. L. H. S. Boys: RF Monihan, LF McCallister, C Caldwell, RG Woodell, LG Woodell.

Referees, Bratton and Perrett.

S. W. H. S. Girls: M. Dutiel, RF Bernhold, LF Miller, LG Carter, JC Catter, RC Appel, RG Sampson, LG Widdig.

Substitutes: Bauer for E. Dutiel. Referees Potts and Perrett.

UNION MEETINGS CLOSE; ARE BIG SUCCESS

A splendid crowd that defied weather conditions, were at Bigelow M. E. church last night for the final service of the evangelistic campaign which First Presbyterian and Bigelow have been conducting for the past three weeks.

The singing was unusually good, all the favorites which have been developed during the period, such as "Love Lifted Me," the new "Glorious Song," and "Hallelujah," being used, and they were entered into with rare spirit. Charlie Wicand paid a great compliment to his chorus, which the audience made very evident that they appreciated. In the loyalty of the chorists, their real ability to sing, and the leader's power in making their efforts produce a devotional attitude on the part of the congregations, have been noted by every one.

Mr. Shannon's sermon last night was on "Achan's Sin." With rare ability he laid bare the reality and awfulness of sin, showing that many of its roots lie deep in the spirit of covetousness, in the individual, society, the nation, the church, and holding up the crucified Christ as man's only salvation from his power.

Some speakers have had the phrase applied to them, "A man with a message." This evangelist is preeminently "a man with a Savior." The message has no difficulty in making itself felt; simple, sincere, deeply in earnest, it is the sort of evangel that will remain long after the preacher has passed from view. Especially has his personality and preaching appealed to men.

The warm hearted co-operation of the pastors and people of both congregations thru the services continues to be one of the outstanding features of the religious life of Portsmouth. Few churches in the state, it is safe to say, have so perfectly labored together as friends in the great enterprise of the kingdom. They may well be pardoned a little pride in their accomplishment, which has been so long under way that it has passed well beyond the mere experimental stage. The spiritual gain from the three strenuous weeks will without doubt endure thru the work of the winter, and long into the coming year.

Five Languages at Tailors' Meeting. At the meeting of the International Journeymen Tailors' Union over eight hundred people employed in the trade turned out. English, Irish, Scotch, Hebrew, French, Italian and Finnish were used by the speakers in their addresses.—Toronto Globe.

THE CABINET OF DR. CALIGARI

Three Nights Commencing Tonight, the Eastland Theatre Will Present the Film Sensation of the World, "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari." The Most Thrilling Motion Picture You Have Ever Seen. You'll Never Forget It.

Program

A—Overture—Eastland Orchestra.
B—"It's Your Move"—A New Gayety Comedy.

C—"On The Trek"—A Prizma Color Picture.

D—"The Great European Sensation"—"The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari."

When "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" comes to the Eastland Theatre tonight for a run of three days the public here will have the advantage of seeing a picture which caused a European sensation before it was brought to America. The photoplay is one of fantasy and mystery and a New York critic declared of it "that the first hundred shocks are the hardest."

"The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" is said to be packed with incident and stories by Poe and others, and the settings have been done in what is called the "impressionistic" style—that is the scene artists set themselves to catch the moods of the performers in the sets. The results are amazingly effective.

Dr. Caligari is a traveling showman exploiting a somnambulist. He has the poor creature completely under his control and utilizes him as an instrument to commit various crimes, until the hero of the picture, who tells the story of the Doctor, expresses him. Then comes a denouement which picks up Francis, the story teller, reintroduces the Doctor and Jane, the beautiful sweetheart of Francis, and leads to an astonishing climax.

SMOKEHOUSE AND TANKS BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

Tanks Outplayed In Every Department Of Game; Ball In Their Territory Most Of Time

A team of class, the Smoke House never against a team with not much more than a reputation, the Ironton Tanks played a scoreless tie on the latter's gridiron Sunday afternoon, the Tanks showing that they were not the same old team with a Daves in the lineup.

Heretofore the team has been all Daves, the brunt of the offensive work falling on this lad. With him out of the lineup the Tanks seemed more or less helpless, most of the heavy work going to Poole and Brooks who are not in the Daves class.

The game was just what was expected by Portsmouth fans who had watched the locals in action in practice this past week. The Ironton fans expecting a runaway battle were soon quieted and after the first quarter not a whistle could be heard from their side of the field. They gave up quickly and held their breath in fear, expecting the Smoke House to score almost any time.

The Smoke House crew showed their class by gaining more ground by far than the Tanks, straight football being used mostly which showed up that "wonderful" Tank machine all the more. If they can't stop straight football what would they do on trick plays, etc. The tackling of the Ironton fans brought praise from even the Ironton fans, the tackling of the Tanks stamping them as neck-wringing tacklers, which certainly did not reflect any credit on their "wonderful" coach and paid players imported this season to help keep the name of Ironton out of the mud. The Smoke House gang threw a surprise into the Tanks, the locals' backfield hitting the line and going around the end for big gains when the Tanks were reported as being dead on end runs and line bucks. Prior and McLaughlin were the tackling stars for Portsmouth. They are in almost every play. DeVoss, Hanley and Quinn played a great game in the backfield.

The Smoke House demonstrated that it was not a bit afraid of the Tanks in the last quarter. In this quarter the Tanks punted several times on first down and one of these times was when they were in the middle of the field. It plainly showed they were afraid of Portsmouth staying in their territory. On the other hand Portsmouth had the ball on her own 30 yard line and instead of punting on the first down tried to advance the ball by straight playing, punting only on the fourth down.

All in all, it was a great game and the Tanks should consider themselves lucky. They are probably doing this for the first time since they were outclassed.

The wet field proved a big drawback to the speedy locals. DeVoss, Quinn, Taylor and Hanley, who were expected to make big gains on end runs could not get a good start and slipped on many occasions when such a play started. All that the locals are hoping for is a dry field when the Tanks play here.

That the Tanks and their coach were excited was shown in the last quarter when a man was sent into the game at the wrong time and the Tanks had to suffer a half the distance to the goal penalty. It certainly did not speak well for the high salaried men on the team.

The story of the game showing how much more ground the locals gained than the Tanks:

JUNIOR TEAM IS BEATEN BY GREENUP

Going up against a team much heavier than they were and minus two regulars, Jake Pfan at fullback and Jacobs at end, the Smoke House Juniors were defeated by the Greenup Owls Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 0.

The game was played in pasture where the Greenup men were more at home than the Portsmouth lads.

Greenup scored their only marks in the first period. By a series of line bucks and long runs they marched straight down the field for a touchdown. The end runs could not be broken up by the locals who were on the defensive all during the first quarter. After this period the locals took on new life and for the remainder of the game had the ball in Greenup's territory. The locals carried the ball to within 10 yards of Greenup's goal twice, but there the Greenup line, all powerful built men, held like a stone wall. Dixon starred for the locals. He clipped off many yards on end runs. Cleverly performed at full back in place of Pfan and played a good game.

Harvard And Princeton Clash Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Yale so far undefeated in her 1921 gridiron campaign appears strongest of the "big three" as the dates for the annual big three engagements approach, Harvard and Princeton, both of which have squandered out at the small end of the football horn this season, will clash next Saturday. The following week the Tigers meet Yale and on November 13, Yale faces the crimson.

In six games the bulldog has scored 153 points against three opponents. Their hardest fight was against the Army, a game they won 14 to 7. Brown was comparatively easy for Yale last Saturday, but made one touchdown and the subsequent goal from a touchdown, losing 45 to 7.

Harvard and Princeton have had considerable trouble. The crimson was tied and all but defeated by Penn State and Saturday lost to Centre. Harvard has scored 84 points against opponents 34.

The Tigers' first setback came from Ann Arbor, the Naval academy eluding getting revenge for a 1920 defeat by a score of 13 to 0.

Speaking Of Pure Bunk; Pipe This Line

Speaking of pure bunk how about this from Sunday's Irontonian:

It was reported about the city last evening that Frank Nesser and two brothers of the famous Nesser tribe, known the state over for athletic ability, would be in the Portsmouth lineup today. This report though not official is certain and probable. Frank Nesser is known to many baseball fans in the city having formerly played first base for the Lima team in the Ohio State League. The three brothers are now knocked out for two months but refused to leave the fight. Here the Tanks showed they were not going to take any chances on Portsmouth drive, they took back over their own goal and punted on the first down. DeVoss got the ball in the middle of the field and made a 3 yard gain, just as the third quarter ended.

Fourth Period
Hoffman went in at center for Ironton and Quinn took Hanley's place at halfback for the Smoke House. Quinn made 4 yards and Montgomery on a sneak went through for 3 yards and first down. Ironton was penalized 10 yards. A line buck with DeVoss carried a ball and a cross buck with Quinn in charge of the ball netted 4 yards. DeVoss added 4 more, but on the next play Portsmouth did not gain and it was Ironton's ball on her 15 yard line.

An end run was only good for 2 yards. Ironton took time out to rest. A line buck netted 1 yard and the next line buck Ironton had to punt. DeVoss receiving on Ironton's 40 yard line, Quinn made 2 yards. DeVoss made 1 yard, Byrnes, Ironton end, making the first real clean tackle of the game by an Ironton player.

Passes failed and Quinn punted more than 40 yards, the ball going over Ironton's goal. The ball was put in play on the Tanks' 20 yard line. A line buck failed and on the next play a forward pass, Hoffman, center, caught it. He was not eligible for the pass and the ball went to Portsmouth, on Ironton's 30 yard line.

Chinn hit the line for 3 yards. The locals were penalized 10 yards. A forward pass was intercepted by Hoffman. On the next play Quinn intercepted an Ironton pass. A pass to Suddler failed. Chinn punted to Ironton's 12 yard line, the receiver being laid low in the spot where he caught the ball. Ironton again showed she was afraid to keep the ball so close to her own goal and punted on the first down.

DeVoss received the ball and ran it back 7 yards. Portsmouth fumbled and Ironton recovered. Ironton punted from the middle of the field on first down, determined in their effort to get the ball out of their territory. Portsmouth received on her 15 yard line but did not show any fear of Ironton putting her back across the goal for Captain Chinn had Montgomery run line bucks and other plays on the first three downs instead of resorting to a punt. DeVoss bucked the line for 4 yards and Quinn 3, the locals showing they still had the old fight in them. Chinn took the ball for a line buck just as the whistle sounded, ending the game.

The lineups:
Smoke House: Saddler, R. E. Hynes; Ackord, R. T. Williams; Gardner, R. G. Jackson; Prior, C. C. Lucas; Englebrecht, I. G. Demsey; McLaughlin, I. T. Brooks; Phillips, I. E. Cronin; Taylor, Q. B. Unger; Hanley, R. H. B. Barron; DeVoss, I. H. B. Evans; Chinn, F. B. Poole.

Subs: Hoffman for Lucas; Berrell for Poole; Montgomery for Taylor; Adams for Phillips; Quinn for Hanley.

Ran Team Well
When Jimmy Taylor was laid out, Montgomery was sent to quarter and he ran the team like a veteran. He was cool, used good judgment and centered his attacks on the weak side of the Ironton line. Taylor's loss was a big one to his team as this chap would have been heard from had he not been laid low by Brooks. The last he tackled high and was cautioned several times. He seemed bent on roughing it after he saw his team's chances were hopeless. The fans, that is the fans from this city, razed him good and proper.

Real Tackles
McLaughlin and Ackord at the tackle posts electrified the big crowd by their all-round playing. They repelled all attacks and tackled low and hard. McLaughlin was very fast on his feet and made several open field tackles that were dreams. And Ackord duplicated his feats.

Why Wake The Dead?

The Times last week said there was one Poole that was going to be splashed on in Ironton Sunday. Well, he was not only splashed on but he pulled the fastest play of the year when he trotted out between periods. The big fellow hung his head when he found out what he had done and did a dead march off the field. Slow music, and doesn't he look natural?

Hanley Was There

That boy "Wat" Hanley at half was a demon on end runs and his kicking was long and sure. He showed the magic of his foot in a bewitching manner and proved a great running mate to Chinn and DeVoss. When Hanley gave way to Quinn in the final quarter the Portsmouth fans applauded him all the way to the side lines.

Salute Capt. Chinn

The fans doff their caps to Capt. Chinn. Both on the offense and defense he was in every play. He thoroughly understands the game and when called on to make a gain he usually makes it. Chinn instilled a lot of life into his men yesterday and his work could not have been improved upon.

A Team Themselves

That pair of sterling guards, Englebrecht and Gardner played a beautiful game yesterday. Their work was clean cut, their tackling sure and their clumping was beautiful. These lads deserve a lot of credit for the capable manner in which they suffered the Smokehouse line.

They Passed Up Phillips' End

Old reliable Sam Phillips certainly played a nifty game at left end. He stopped every play directed at him, and the Tanks soon discovered that it was impossible to get around Phillips, who is a conscientious player and is always on his toes. Adams played the second half and he, too, played a stellar game.

Where Was Cheer?

Fans love true sportsmanship, no matter who wins. When the game was over the Smokehouse team gave a yell for the Tanks. Did they return it? Yes, almost. They sneaked off the field and that was the last of 'em until they show here. Then the battle is on. Save your money till that glad-some day and soak it on the Smokehouse crew.

And They Boxed Bill

"You ought to change your name to Neck Wringers. Instead of 'Tanks,' a fan yelled out when Brooks, halfback, would tackle high. To the fans it looked like he was bent on only one thing—putting some Portsmouth man out. But it was not his day. He was local so often that at the end of the game he must have felt like a bolt of lightning being shipped to some foreign spinsters."

Was A Stonewall

I have seen a lot of hummen in my time, but that boy Englebrecht in the second half put up the strongest game I have ever seen. He broke up every play in the line and his tackling was low and hard. The Smokehouse coach said after the struggle:

Were On The Job

Hamilton and Eichenlaub handled the game in perfect manner. There were frequent penalties, due to the anxiety of the players. Several times both teams were guilty of holding in the line and they did not get away with this.

In Every Play

Good-natured Bill Prior was at home at center. This chap frequently left his post to make tackles, and he made them sure and hard. He was quick to scent the opponents' attack and fathomed every play. There may be better centers than Prior, but they are not in these woods.

Remember The Date

The Tanks play a return game in Millbrook on Sunday, November 13. All roads will lead to this battle.

PUNTS AND PASSES

Speaking of line rammers, we intro-duce Mr. Hanley DeVoss.

Portsmouth fans occupied the east side of the field and made themselves heard from all angles. It was a great day for rooting.

Ashland and Huntington fans readily admitted that the Tanks were outplayed. That was apparent to even a school boy.

And the Tanks have been in right training for a month and are putting up real money for his players.

The special train on the N. & W. carried almost 300 into Tankville. Somehow on other the name seems rather appropriate, don't you think?

The Tanks smashed up against a veritable wall of admaning. And their attempted end runs were invariably nipped in the bud. Yes, where were those famous long passes and crisp crosses and fake formation plays? In the family ice book.

The Tanks came on the field with broad smiles, smiles they thought spelled victory. But not yesterday, dear Josephine.

Now we suppose the Tanks will give up the idea of looking a game with the Cannon Bulldogs. They thought they could not get enough meat in this section. They are singing a different tune today.

Between halves the Ironton team left the field. Their coach, probably had a few interesting things to tell them.

Had not Jimmy Taylor been hurt, he no doubt would have staged several long runs. He will be ready for November 10.

The terrible rain held off just long enough for the crowd to get down town but oh the ducking some of the motorists received in driving home.

Team Praised By Huntington

Relative to the big game the Huntington Herald-Dispatch this morning said:

"While 2,500 fans looked on the powerful Ironton Tanks battled the all-star Smoke House eleven from Portsmouth, Ohio, to a tie game, after sixty minutes of football that failed to produce any sensational features."

"The last rains of Saturday night left the Beechwood Turk gridiron soggy and treacherous, making the game very slow and listless. There were families due to the slippery condition of the ball, and the forward pass game was almost out of the question."

"The Tanks did not look to be good multi-crowds, despite the fact that they outwitted their opponents. They failed to find any holes in the Smoke House line, which played a dandy game, under the wet conditions of the soil. The team looks good from every angle."

Bill Brooks And Company Had No Ball

The Bill Brooks & Company did not have a ball yesterday and a Portsmouth ball was used in the game. And just a week ago Booster Day was observed in Tanktown. Soon it will be "crazy day" as the Tanks are through. They shot their last yesterday.

Tanks Punted On First Down

Seldom will a team punt on the first down in midfield. If it elects to play it safe in this manner, it is a flagrant admission that it despair of any hope of scoring. That is what the much-touted and highly over-rated Tanks were guilty of yesterday. Where were their famous offense? Where were those line plunges they chirped about?

Yes, Send 'Em A Rulebook

It was pitiful to see the Tanks penalized half the distance to the goal for illegal substitution. It was an awful bonehead and the well-posted rule-reading fans chuckled with glee when the Tanks blundered. Capt. Prior's call for Poole to go in, but it was in the middle of a period and as soon book.

SAY, WAVERLY THIS WILL NOT DO

The Waverly American Legion Basketball team left the Cardinals a big hole Sunday when the Waverly county team called up and cancelled the game scheduled for Millbrook park yesterday afternoon. This left the Cardinals without any chance of booking a game to take the ceiling of the game certainly did not show good sportsmanship on the part of the Waverly eleven which seems to be fastened to their own field this season.

Everybody "Laffed"

Well, you ought to feel at home now, darkness has settled over your old town, a Portsmouth fan chirped as the crowd was filing off the field. And everybody "laffed," as you know Ironton was lightness on account of the coal bill being unpaid.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Still Playing Diamond Game

Sunday afternoon on the Scitoville diamond the Hilltop Stars of Portsmouth defeated Scitoville's best nine by a score of 5 to 4. The game was close and exciting with Townsend on the mound for the Stars and Shover in the box for Scitoville. Townsend allowed only 7 hits while the Stars allowed nine safe blows.

In the eighth inning when the score was 4 to 3 in favor of Scitoville Fry of the Stars laced out a three bagger scoring Dunham and Wells and making the score 5 to 4.

Johnny enthralling for the Stars held the runners safe while Conley catching for Scitoville allowed several to steal. H. Fournier was up to his old tricks and stole home.

The Stars play at Otway next Sunday. Manager Fry of the Stars would like to book a game for Christmas.

Devoss Real Star In Game

And that twisting, charming, rolling Heeky Devoss made a name for himself by his clever work. He was the big ground gainer of the day and his work stamps him as the football hero of the year. He ripped gaping holes in the Tank line and would have gotten away for big gains on a dry and firm field. In fact if the field had been in perfect shape the Tanks would have been beaten and Devoss would have figured prominently in the defeat. He is a while in the backfield.

$35 A Week To Scrap

"Where did you get all these high-salaried birds?" a Portsmouth fan yelled to Capt. Procter. When he did this, all eyes turned to Reynolds, the big right tackle in the Tank line. He was unharmed for fair yesterday, and to prove it he wanted to whip some one. And you know when a fellow wants to fight in a football game it is a safe bet that he isn't getting very far legitimately.

When Tanks Quit

Honest fans, Ironton was whipped the minute the big white and blue team trotted out of the gridiron. Full of confidence and pep, the Smokehouse ran through signal practice in flashy style. Then some long punts were made, spiral punts, too. And, oh, those long, lingering luscious passes. The Tanks curled up and died while this was going on.

Poole Flopped Tanks Through

The crowd was an exceedingly large one but none too enthusiastic from a Tank view. The Irontonians had little to root for, but oh, how the Portsmouth fans whooped and yelled. The Tanks started off like they would march down the field, because the Smokehouse line was not charging, quick enough. When it stiffened and Poole was flopped every time the jig was up. Then it was the Tanks elected to play an exclusively defensive game.

Poole Gained Through Line

The Tanks lost their pepper when they saw their plays were being smothered. In the last two periods they played without vim or vigor and seemed bent on being satisfied with a scoreless tie. Procter was at seat what kind of a play to use and he was frequently downed in his tracks. Brooks, Williams, Barron, Crawford and Eichenlaub were stopped before they got started. Poole was the individual star for the Tanks and he was frequently splashed on.

A FEW CITY FIGURES

HERE are a few figures by way of comparison, gathered from the city auditor's report for 1919, the last year of the Kaps administration and for 1920, the first year of the Gableman administration. The figures relate to the police station expenses.

In 1919 (Kaps) there were 1119 arrests. In 1920 (Gableman) there were 1053 arrests. Kaps spent for fuel, light and supplies in 1919 the sum of $1115.92, while in 1920 the Gableman administration spent $528.72. Under the head of "incidentals" Kaps spent $290.92 while Gableman spent $190.99. For sustenance of prisoners Kaps spent $555.56 while Gableman spent $94.74. The total expenditure by the Kaps administration about the police station in 1919 was $3,141.44, while in 1920, under Gableman the total expenditure was $1106.81.

The above figures are on a par with expenditures in other city departments. They show what competency, economy and careful attention to duties mean in the conduct of city affairs. They furnish the voters facts and reasons why the administration of Mayor William N. Gableman should be continued in power.

Last year voters turned willing ears to false prophets to their sorrow as the millions of unemployed hear testimony. Will the voters allow themselves to be again deceived by rainbow promises and catch-vote devices of the Moulton-Matthews-Harper crowd, a crowd intent only upon getting into office and not caring how they get there or what happens once they are entrusted with the spending of the taxpayers' money.

The only safe thing for the Portsmouth tax payer to do is to vote for Mayor Gableman and his associates. Make the majority an impressive one and allow them to continue their good work.

AFTER THE WORK'S DONE

WHEN Aristotle long ago said that the right use of leisure was the chief end in education, he little dreamed that in our day this idea would be used in support of a plea for a change in education.

In an article in the current number of one of our magazines the writer contends that the students who go into business and industry through the doors of a college training get only the technical education required for their work. They get no training in the right use of their leisure after the routine work of the day. For the vast majority of our boys and girls college doors never open at all, and only a relatively small number finishes even the high school. In an age when most work is done by machinery, when even a good share of the remainder is mechanical and routine, it is pointed out, these children should be given training which in later years would help them to make better use of their leisure time.

Most parents and teachers will agree that this suggestion is worthy of consideration. We can ill afford to neglect the fact that what use people make of their leisure time is very important both as a matter of social welfare and business efficiency. While it is not proposed to restrict the individual in his pleasures, the community should aim to make these pleasures as wholesome as possible for the individual and society.

SIMPLE PRAYER BEST

IN these days when it is not uncommon to hear a minister praised because of his "beautiful prayers," by "beautiful" being meant ornateness of phraseology, it is refreshing and timely that a clergyman has seen fit to declare that simple prayers, like that taught by the Founder of Christianity, are best.

Prayers hardly are a fit subject for studied oratory. Those that come from the heart not infrequently are marked by unconscious eloquence. But it is contrary to the spirit of Christianity that one should compose supplications to the Almighty with regard rather to what men will think of them than to how the Deity will view them. And it is to be feared that it is the minds of the authors of some of these elaborate prayers against which we are warned. Moreover, the effect of such prayers on the congregation is likely to be other than what the minister intended; for the very complexity of the language may divert the listeners' thoughts from God to the orator.

Christians have been counselled by the Supreme Authority on such matters not to pray ostentatiously, as the hypocrites do, "that they may be seen of men," but to address God in the simple, earnest way in which a child would present a plea to his father. And it would seem that that advice was intended to apply to public prayers as well as to those spoken in the secrecy of the closet.

MARTIANS HEADING HERE

OUR immigration problems have only begun, if we may credit a self-styled scientist of Salsamun, N. Y., who claims to have positive proof that Martians in great numbers are sailing the air in their little globular traveling cases which they operate by electricity, and are seeking to land among us.

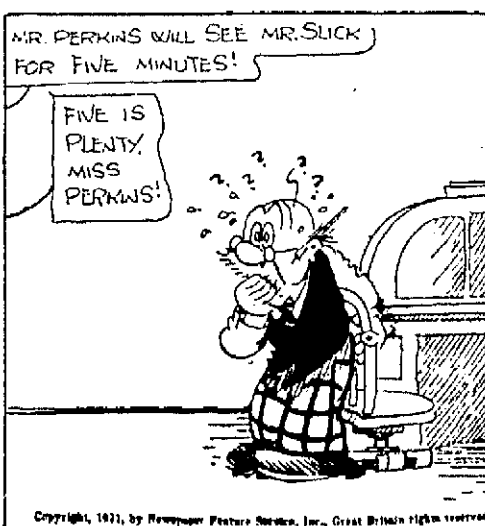

Besides the fact that a limitation of immigration to the United States is desirable at this time, there seem to be other reasons why we should not give too cordial a welcome to those beings who are leaving their own planet with the intention of settling upon ours—for such we are informed is their intention.

In the first place, there are said to be women and children only in the parties leaving Mars, and there is evidence they have left their native planet following a great war between the sexes. Then, the women are said to be the most beautiful creatures you can imagine and, although small in stature, will make our own women appear anything but handsome, indicating that besides the danger of leaving an entire planet to be run by men alone, there is another danger to be considered.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTYME

NEW YORK, October 31.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: F. Hope called, at the cock's crow, and away with him to see G. Coonan, the play actor, sail in a barque for Europe. Back to the Golden Eagle and ate a well fashioned omelet then northward by stage.

It was pretty to see the groups of young girls going to the factory lofts, vibrant with health and bantering. Mightily cried here in the city war is to be made to keep dogs off the street and if true I would liefer live elsewhere and intend so to do.

In the afternoon I saw a brave play "A Bill of Divorcement" which I believe to be the finest thing that has come to our theatre this season. A crisp air and fine for walking in the late afternoon and I to R. Brinkerhoff's and for an hour in the Shakespeare garden in the park watching the sun set and both filled with fine thoughts.

Home and my new great coat came, very noble. With C. Briggs, the limner, to Galloway's and we played at cards and had a repeat and then sang and told tales until 4 o'clock of the morning and my wife had angry words with me. So to bed, in some little discontent, but no words from me.

Lionel—of the immortal trio Lionel, Ethel and Jack—almost displayed a touch of Barrymore anger at his recent premiere when at the big moment in his play the audience indulged in a fit of coughing. He restrained himself however, and got through the scene. An intrepid Camille would never invite competition in coughing among Broadway audiences. And the odd thing is that the audience never cough between acts.

In one block in the Forties I counted 14 vacant apartments. This condition real estate men tell me is not unusual all over the city. Before October 1, there was not an apartment to be had. Rents were raised and tenants moved to the suburbs and new tenants have not been secured.

One of New York's most fashionable tailors has returned from London, shortening his vacation by three weeks. A group of his customers were over there and on the streets they would pull their clothes all out of kilter and walk along in front of him. When he went to a theatre they would occupy boxes, pin their evening coats so they looked like horrible misfits—and then they'd whistle to the tailor and point to their clothes. He couldn't stand it any longer and took the first boat home.

This is the story of a half-million dollar song told to me by the man who paid and paid and paid. He was living in a bachelor apartment. He was known to be friendly with a big theatrical producer ten years ago. The girl, whom he had never seen, sought his friendly help to meet the manager. She came to his apartment and sang a song. He fell in love with her but she just played along with him and the other day married an automobile racing driver. Incidentally the name of the song she sang to him was "The Glow Worm." He still plays the song on his victrola.

Down at a Bowery theatre on amateur night a hefty blonde came out and attempted to hit High C. After she had gone through several bars some one in the gallery shouted: "Take that voice out and get it pressed!"

The Education of Henry Ford
Mr. Ford bought a McGuffey's First Reader in Cincinnati last week, completing his series with the exception of the Second. We have no doubt that his literary education and historical information would be materially increased by a careful study of the whole series. The same opinion applies to many men who have neglected the riches of books while accumulating treasures in banks and safety deposit vaults.

There is much worth while in McGuffey's Sixth, and particularly pertinent to Mr. Ford; the Elegy in a Country Churchyard, for instance, with these lines:

The applause of listening senates to command,
The threats of pain and ruin to despise,
To scatter plenty o'er a swilling land,
And read their history in a nation's eyes,
Their lot forbade—

Patrick Henry's speech before the Virginia Convention also contains lines that might have changed Mr. Ford's attitude when clouds of doubt in the world war first encompassed us about. In those days Mr. Ford was not enamored of military service nor of the flag, if he was correctly quoted. He did not thrill to Drake's immortal lines:

Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.

Especially applicable to Mr. Ford's enormous wealth and neglect of education are Lyman Beecher's ringing sentences and ardent national patriotism. They begin on page 228 of the Sixth: We quote:

"We must educate! We must educate! or we must perish by our own prosperity. If we do not, short will be our race from the cradle to the grave. If, in our haste to be rich and mighty, we outrun our literary and religious institutions, they will never overtake us. . . . It took Rome three hundred years to die; and our death, if we perish, will be as much more terrific as our intelligence and free institutions have given us more home, show, and vitality. May God hide from me the day when the dying agonies of my country shall begin! O thou beloved land, baffle together by the ties of brotherhood, and common interest, and perils: live forever—one and undivided!"

Amen. Amen. Amen. Would that Mr. Ford's mind had been responsive to such appeals to patriotism in the convulsive days when so many sons of unpatriotic rich fathers were seeking to nullify the decisions of selective draft boards!

But we fear Mr. Ford is a mere col-

Too Deep for Him
An Englishman, talking against many things in America, happened to say to a friend in New York: "Why, even your newspapers can't take a joke." The American friend replied: "I just try the next one that comes along with some nonsense and see if he can't answer you."

The Englishman agreed and stepped to a newsstand, saying, "Hello youngster, look at your nose and tell me what time it is."

The boy quickly replied: "Aw, look at your own, mine ain't running."

Oh, clasp your hand to the north wind's mouth
And hide the road away;
Put out the sun and the moon and the stars,
And then perhaps I'll stay.

As long as I've a tipperence to jingle,
The trail and I are one;
The end of the journey shall never be
Until my life is done.

Like a tad penny I'm rolling the road
Off for a day, a month or a year;
Now here, now there, and then
Back to my own again.

How can I tell you what sends me out,
Who should be glad to say?
Oh, it's a something that's in my blood—
I must be up and away!

Never be wasting your tears on me.
Only save me a smile,
A bit of a piece in the heart of you—
And forget me the while!

—Abigail W. Cresson.
